Day 2 had us celebrating Halloween enjoying the morning and early afternoon exploring the Italian Island of Sardinia, visiting Golfo Aranci and the Archipelago of La Maddalena with our local guide Giuseppe Serra and some show fans/followers. Later in the afternoon there was a fun Pumpkin Carving Competition aboard the Seabourn Ovation before we enjoyed a private cocktail party with all the show fans/followers who are traveling with us on the big "Let's Go America! Tour" - Mediterranean Cruise 2024. Be sure to Tune-In when we broadcast America's #1 Travel Radio live across the USA to our 590+ weekly radio stations on Saturday, November 9th from 10a-12p ET, as we'll share some of our conversation with Giuseppe from today while also being joined live on-set by Seabourn Ovation Captain Emilian Cygan, Hotel Director Zoran Jacimovic, Cruise Director Robert Brendan, Executive Chef Lindsay Lewis and others... Day 3 started with another stunning Mediterranean sunrise as we approached the French island of Corsica early this morning... After a morning climb up to the Citadella di Calvi, we were rewarded with stunning views of the harbor and this mountainous region... The Citadel has defended Corsica from various enemies over the years and was first fortified by Genoese rulers in the 12th century. We then made our way to the center of Calvi, where we came upon their 18th century famous pink church, Sainte Marie Major. And a day trip to Corsica wouldn't be complete without sampling some local cheese, and some Corsican "donuts" with some show fans/followers who are traveling with us on the big "Let's Go America! Tour" - Mediterranean Cruise 2024. The afternoon was spent enjoying the spa aboard Seabourn Ovation, experiencing the new dining option, Solis, and enjoying a fun evening show in the Grand Salon. Next up we're headed to Portofino in Italy and we'll share some of those adventures tomorrow... Be sure to share your comments with us here on social media, or via <https://lnkd.in/g/FbKd2>. rmworldtravel Day 4 on RMWorldTravel's big "Let's Go America! Tour" - Mediterranean Cruise 2024 brought us to Portofino, Italy as well as nearby Santa Margherita and Rapallo too! What a truly charming, picturesque and historical region of Italy and what a great time we all had... Once we returned to the Seabourn Ovation in the late afternoon it was time for a wonderful dinner in The Restaurant on Deck 4 with many show fans and followers traveling with us on this 10-day adventure, and then it was on to a powerful performance by London based singer Allison Jear in the Grand Salon on Deck 6. Tomorrow it's Monte Carlo! Today on Day 5 of the big "Let's Go America! Tour" – Mediterranean Cruise 2024 we visited the 2nd smallest country in the world, Monaco. It's a place we've visited a number of times in the past, but all previous visits had us arriving via train whereas today it was a different experience arriving aboard the luxurious Seabourn Ovation. This visit was also unique as we spent part of the day with a member of Monaco's Parliament, Christophe Bricco, as he shared some of his country with us. Then it was on to the famed Casino Monte Carlo, exploring some of the shopping the city is known for as well as its Billionaire Super Yacht Marina! Upon returning to our own ship, Cruise Director Robert Brendan entertained all the show fans/followers traveling with us and the other passengers with an early evening "Sail-Away from Monte Carlo" event singing songs from Musical Theater shows he's performed in, opera and more. Both Christophe and Robert will join us on-air when we broadcast America's #1 Travel Radio Show via satellite to our 590+ weekly stations across the USA this Saturday, November 9th from 10a-12p ET, so make it point to Tuneln... Day 6 on RMWorldTravel's big "Let's Go America! Tour" – Mediterranean Cruise 2024 began with our arrival to Cavalaire-Sur-Mer aboard Seabourn Ovation. The morning began with a truly gorgeous sunrise, and then we were off to explore the coastal town of St.Tropez on the French Riviera, in the Provence-Alpes-Côte d'Azur region of southeastern France! The weather on this trip from Rome to Sardinia to Corsica to Portofino to Monte Carlo and now St. Tropez has been spectacular and this is such a wonderful time of the year to visit the Mediterranean. The afternoon was spent poolside enjoying the warm sun and fun energy on the ship, followed by a dinner with some of the show fans/followers traveling with us on this special voyage. Our evening ended with a performance by Celli, two of Europe's leading cellists in the Grand Salon on Deck 6. We'll be sharing some BIG news when we broadcast America's #1 Travel Radio Show from Palma de Mallorca later this week, so join us on Saturday from 10a-12p ET via 1 of our 590+ weekly stations across the USA or you can use the live stream on our website. Yes, the election happening in the U.S. is a big topic over here in Europe but as the world awaits how we collectively move forward – today, Travel Tuesday, also represents Day 7 on RMWorldTravel's big "Let's Go America! Tour" – Mediterranean Cruise 2024. We arrived in Sete in the early AM – the largest fishing port in France – and we enjoyed a relaxed day reconnecting with the city we've previously enjoyed. From visiting the excellent local Halles de Sète market where you'll find the freshest seafood, delicious local cheeses, fruits/vegetables, fresh meats and other products from the area to of course returning to the 5th generation bakery – L'epi d'or – where La Baguette is simply the best! The late afternoon featured a meeting with Seabourn Ovation Captain Emilian Cygan, Chief Systems Officer Denis Curkovic and Guest Services Manager Nesto Mosquera as we prepare for the live national broadcast of America's #1 Travel Radio Show this week. Join us as we transmit back to America via satellite to our 590+ weekly stations across the USA on Saturday, November 9th from 10a-12p ET, or connect to the live stream at www.RMWorldTravel.com. Captain Emilian will join us live on-set, along with other members of the ship's Executive Team. rmworldtravel Day 8 of RMWorldTravel's big "Let's Go America! Tour" – Mediterranean Cruise 2024 was a Sea Day and that meant enjoying the Seabourn Ovation and all that this ship offers. The morning had us going behind-the-scenes of the ship's operations with Chief Engineer, Pierugo Bosio, to see the workings of the engine room and all the systems that make the ship function. It was eye-opening! The late morning and early afternoon had us enjoying The Retreat located on Deck 12 atop the ship, followed by an audio test for our live broadcast later this week. Later in the afternoon we competed in the Name that Tune event, some show fans/followers traveling with us participated in the Blackjack Tournament, there was a reception with the Captain, dinner with friends in The Restaurant and an evening magic performance by Jamie Raven. It was fun day at sea! Join us on Saturday from 10a-12p ET as we broadcast America's #1 Travel Radio Show live from Palma de Mallorca. Then it was dinner under the stars at the Earth & Ocean Restaurant on-board the ship, followed by cocktails with some show fans/followers in the Piano Bar at Solis Restaurant. Hello from Palma de Mallorca! Today is Day 9 on RMWorldTravel's big "Let's Go America! Tour" – Mediterranean Cruise 2024, and it featured our hosts Robert & Mary broadcasting America's #1 Travel Radio Show live from Seabourn Square on Deck 7 back to the USA via satellite. Big news was announced on today's show as the program has now surpassed the 600 weekly affiliate plateau!! What a broadcast it was as Robert & Mary were joined by Seabourn Ovation Captain Emilian Cygan, Hotel Director Zoran Jacimovic, Cruise Director Robert Brendan, Executive Chef Lindsay Lewis and Destinations Manager Sara McDonald. Since this special cruise also included a number of show fans/followers traveling with The Careys, they decided to open the show mics to 8 of them, including Rhonda Sloan, SVP with Travel Guard, who's been traveling with them since Rome! Robert & Mary also shared a conversation they had with Christophe Brico, a member of Monaco's Parliament from their visit to Monte Carlo earlier in the week, as well as with their Tour Guide Giuseppe Serra from their adventures on the island of Sardinia. Now that the program has aired across the nation from 10a-12p ET, it's been archived here -- <https://lnkd.in/eKbUnyb5> -- for you to access again anytime to learn more about Seabourn and the Mediterranean region. After our successful live national broadcast of America's #1 Travel Radio Show from Palma de Mallorca on Saturday, November 9th 2024, from 10a-12p ET that featured our big announcement of surpassing 600 weekly affiliates across the USA – our Seabourn Ovation cruise moved on to Barcelona as the final stop on the big "Let's Go America! Tour" – Mediterranean Cruise 2024. Returning to this vibrant seaside city is always enjoyable – and we've once again visited multiple museums, have been taking in the familiar sights, sampling various types of Catalan tapas and of course paella, walking the promenade and finding new areas of the city to experience. We based ourselves once again at the Hilton Diagonal Mar with a number of show fans who've been traveling with us. This property was a location we broadcast from back in 2017 and thanks to Iberian Peninsula Area Manager Joachim Hart, the hotel continues to win many awards! As we prepare to head back to New York, a sincere note of thanks to all the show fans/followers who traveled with us from Rome to Barcelona, to the team at Seabourn, Travelpro Luggage, all of our now 600+ weekly radio stations, our many other show sponsors and everyone else involved in helping us continue to achieve the high expectations of being America's #1 Travel Radio Show! #LetsGoAmerica www.RMWorldTravel.com Seabourn Cruise Line Hilton Hotels & Resorts Hilton Grand Vacations Travelpro Products, Inc.
